The text of the work was first created by Grabovoi G.P. during the webinar the 13th of October 2015. When creating the webinar the method of eternal development with the exact forecasting of future events was applied. 100% confirmation of forecasts made by Grabovoi G.P. is proved in protocols and certificates, published in 3-volume edition “Practice of control. Way of salvation”.
When creating the text of the webinar Grabovoi G.P. at first got exact forecast of future events and then created the text teaching the eternal development taking into account the specific events of the future, concerning every person and the world as a whole.

Foreshortening of images in this book fills you with eternity.

Good afternoon.

The topic of today's webinar is my Teachings “About God". The Methods of Control of Eternal Life.

When you make control to ensure eternal life you should first determine the information of actually of eternal life and consider this information from the infinitely distant point and from the infinitely close points. Thus, the spiritual structure of the personality is transformed both to the infinitely remote level of control and to infinitely close level of control to the field of eternal life. At the same time, when we consider the structure of the world from the perspective of dynamic wave of reality and static wave of reality, in this case we should define human physical body as static, which does not change an infinite time. And we can define all external events and events related to the thinking of person, that is what he thinks as a dynamic wave of reality.

All other objects of reality that exist in the world may be in the area of information, which corresponds to the sphere of about two a half centimeters in diameter and that is outside the human body. Thus, the infinite Spirit structure, which is in this case shown at infinitely distant and infinitely close point, can take control of this little sphere with all the phenomena of reality except the static phase of man.

The methods of control of eternal life in this case include the systems that make it possible to take out all external events, which are located in the small sphere, into the structure of human thinking, into the thoughts of man. To do this, you should with the physical eyesight, and essentially with spiritual vision, view the infinitely remote point where the action with the Spirit is fixed. Then you should also see the infinitely close point, that is, where the second position of the Spirit is at the point that is infinitely close to the information of eternal life.

From the point of view of structural properties of this control, the main thing here is to keep all time concentration on the infinitely distant and infinitely close points in relation to the action of the Spirit. That is to say, in this case, the structure refers exactly to structuring the control, well in fact to structuring thinking, because the task of introducing information of all the external events into the structure of human thought is more the structure of the thought itself.

Further, a certain surface, which binds the infinitely remote and infinitely close points to the information namely of eternal life, unfolds. In this position of control, you can feel the dynamic structure of the vibration of reality. Even when you move your physical eyesight focus from a distant object to a close one near the body, you can feel a kind of oscillation of light. This method is built on this principle, i.e. oscillatory structure penetrates into thinking.

And thus, the sphere of all the events, which is outside man, turns out to be inside his thought. Accordingly, the events of eternal life of a particular person, another person, and all the people are within the thought. The position when this type of control takes place is also defined as follows: all the detailed external events are rolled up into one small sphere. And then a person can think calmly, think out of these events by finding particular values.

It is possible to determine the structure, for example, of numbers in particular values. It is possible to determine here that numbers appear from the reproduction of development of human Consciousness. And here appears as though a substructure in the thought, where the events are created by the thinking, for example, numbers and suchlike. Therefore, in all events, which are concentrated in one sphere, there are objectively existing ones, as if beyond the Consciousness of the current level, and those that are created by the intellectual activity of man and other living creatures.

In the methods of control of eternal life, it is necessary to select the events of external reality, which are not consequential in relation to the current moment of action, and select the events, which are consequential. These ate thinking products of man, products of his activities. Accordingly, when we carry out control for implementing eternal life, the method in this case of control of all information of eternal life will be the joining of these two structures in the infinitely distant point.

And when all the events, which are both reproduced consequential, and those which exist as though objectively independently in the infinite point, are fixed by us, when it is necessary to delve into the fundamental meaning of this control, you will be able to implement the control so that you will understand the essence in general of all occurring phenomena in a single impulse of Consciousness. And when a person realizes the entire world at once, he accordingly realizes all his eternal life.

That is to say, this part of the webinar was at the same time the training of spiritual control, which results in a certain spiritual state and exactly the state that allows in a calm level to control all eternal life immediately. The Creator created the world immediately, along with processes and objective reality, and with processes of the consequential reality. When you use this approach, you should, in the methods of control of eternal life, in the first place not to separate the events in the control of the so-called objective reality from the events of the consequential reality.

Since the objective reality is also the consequence of the action of the Consciousness of the Creator and other living, you should try to see in the objective reality your personal factor of actions. That is, try to tune in to the wave that somewhere in any object of the reality is your personal component of your dynamic wave that comes from you.

"To the wave" is basically quite clear: one wave intersects with another one, and any wave have the signs of every other wave. In this case, the sign of the wave structure of the whole world will be the action in relation to man. That is, when a person acts in relation to himself independently, he simultaneously considers all his actions in all the systems of reality.

Therefore, the next method of control, on the control of eternal life is that this factor, in fact, should be remembered in the control. It is very clear technologically namely at the level of the wave theory because when the light comes from outside, and you make control related to yourself, the light turns on all the events of reality. It should be noted that that this control, due to the fact that it is connected with a large array of information, possesses a certain level of differentiation of the static wave within the dynamic wave.

I can repeat that this control, you should note, it has the property of differentiation of the dynamic wave of reality inside the static wave of reality due to the fact that we are talking about a large array of information. In other words, we find dynamics inside the statics. And it has to do more with the form of control, because it is not always convenient in control to keep for a long time in a small sphere an infinite number of events of eternal life.

A selection of a small level that is different from the sphere, for example a change of the form, gives a calmer and more detailed control. Because this is about the control of the entire eternal life. And when you keep under control the events of all eternal life, respectively, of course, there are waves of tension. These waves are useful because they have different properties, including healing properties, it is meant for the current time and for virtually infinite future time.

However, the task of the control is to create a methodology of control that would be natural and does not cause tension. We know such a mechanism of cognition, when a great new material when being learned first causes an increased concentration of attention, and then, when it has been mastered, it is moved to some remote structure of Consciousness without causing tension.

In this case, this method uses the same principle of information control by the entire eternal life. We should select a small modified form from the sphere; I mean that sphere, which, as I said, contains all phenomena of reality that are external to the physical human body. In this sphere, we select the main positions, which are the most important for this man and all living, in a more enlarged version, and for all who had ever lived, through the point of universal resurrection.

And exactly this selected event faction somehow modifies the form of the sphere, which is directly visible to man. And this sphere does not create exactly the tense dynamic structure of reality. It is as if suspended in the form, that is like a drop of water, and you can define the dynamics of this form, as in a normal drop that moves in the rain toward the ground.

The translator, "What is 'hanging like a drop of water'?"

This is the same sphere of a modified form, the sphere of all events. And then you will be able, by the way, to determine from this construction of control how generally water was created, I mean from the perspective of control. As I have mentioned, the sphere contains all events of reality, apart from the human physical body. At the beginning of the webinar, I said that we define human physical body as a static wave of reality.

So, in this technology, for man to create, for example, a drop of water, he has to understand the production of this drop through his Consciousness. In this way of control of eternal life I show how by changing the shape, the thought-form, to implement and ensure eternal life. Therefore, the control is just carried out from the point of view of technology of separation of this form. And, as it was mentioned before, a form to a certain extent different from the sphere, was isolated on the basis of the events that man, which controls, needs most of all.

At the level of a more detailed technology, it looks like the following: you can imagine, for example, a ball of snow, which comprises all events of external reality. Then you have to define, diagnose the ball for the presence of personal events in all phenomena of infinite reality, more over you should take into account that this means the eternal events of your personal life. Through imagination, we consider that all the events fit inside this ball. And as it was said at the webinar, which was yesterday, the imagination can be approximated, i.e. connect with reality.

Thus, one can imagine that the person comes up and from this ball withdraws the snow, which refers to his events. Then he puts this snow on the big ball in the form of a small ball. Thus, we get a modified form, not a spherical one, but of two spheres: one big, and another small. But if to imagine that the big ball is empty, that is, there is no snow inside, then that part of the snow that corresponds to the life events of the person, i.e., for example, the white sphere with all infinite events of the person's life, if to place it inside the ball, it will shine. The light from it, from this sphere, will shine on the entire inner surface of the larger ball.

It turns out, that in this way this small sphere is connected with all the events of the world. And the relocation of this sphere inside the large ball can change the events of the outside world and simultaneously changes the structure events of thinking of the person, because the person does it, these actions, through thinking. At the same time, it is necessary to imagine that the entire inner surface of the ball are the events of the entire external reality. In other words, you can imagine that the person just compacted the snow with the hand pressing it to the inner surface of the ball. This man took the sphere with the events of his personal life or personal life events of another person in respect of whom he carries out the control and pushed it with his hand into this big ball.

And here the human body is used as the action, i.e. the hand, he is doing something himself. And in this method of control of eternal life it is clearly seen that the human form is the form of action. From the point of view of the fundamental structure of the world, it is really clear that it is so, because man always perceives himself. And to ensure eternal life it is just necessary to ensure all the time life events for yourself and all around you the eternal time.

The next method of control of eternal life is development of control to the level of connection of the static wave of reality with the dynamic one in this structure. That is to say, the physical human body serves as an active position of control. In this case, the control is realized not because the body does something, or moves, but because the shape of the human body works. And here there is exactly the anchor structure of control on the methods of control of eternal life, that is as follows: it is enough to perceive correctly, from a correct position, to perceive your shape, and then the eternal life will be ensured.

And to choose the right perspective of perception of your shape, you have to consider what was said at the beginning of the webinar, mentally extend your Spirit to the infinitely distant point in relation to the information of eternal life. Then you should develop your Spirit to the infinitely close point in relation to the information of eternal life. And then you should just ask a question, “And what is the infinitely close point?” Since logically it is understandable what is the “infinitely remote”, however the “infinitely close” does not mean standing too close. Infinitely close is when in fact any action is close.

The Creator controls the world so that any action is just next to Him. In this manner, you can determine this infinitely close point. This is the area from which everything is controllable and is always controllable, that is the eternal time, since we are talking exactly about the infinitely close point to all the events of eternal life. So, this infinitely close area is exactly the physical human body and its form. Here it is important to bear in mind that not only the physical body from any point of view, from any position of eyesight, but necessarily its form as a whole, the form of man.

On the whole, you can just mentally imagine the form of man. Thus, simply imagining all the events of external reality in the form of the shape of man and, at the same time, being aware that the thought is under your control, you get the method of control of the entire eternal life just by creating the form of man that comprises inside all the phenomena of external reality. In this way can optimize your events, heal yourself, rejuvenate and generally take any actions that ensure eternal life.

I finish the webinar today. Now thank you for your attention. Thank you for the questions, which made it possible to detail and to explain certain positions of the today topic in an advanced way. This suggests that participation in the webinar is objective and facilitates exactly ensuring eternal life to everyone, that is, the participation of all the participants.

Now within ten minutes, you can formulate questions and put them down in the chat; and I will have been answering during the second part of the webinar for forty-five minutes and not only the questions that relate to this webinar, which I conducted today, but in general you can ask questions regarding the material of the Teachings, generally any materials of the Teachings.

Thanks again for your attention.

Now I continue the webinar as the second part where I will answer the questions asked today via chat.

The question is as follows: "How to determine what should be corrected when there are a lot of problems to avoid damage and adding new ones?"

From the point of view of the webinar, which I conducted in the first part, you should select a transformed sphere, i.e. your personal events on the large sphere of all events of eternal life. There you can review those events that you need most of all at the right time exactly to ensure eternal life. Then among the large number of problems, you will first select the ones that need to be addressed urgently, for example, or you will understand, at what time you should solve some specific problem, or look for other solutions. That is, to carry out a control when the problems become irrelevant.

Therefore, this part of the question, "to avoid damage" it exactly relates to optimization of control. However to damage something, when the goal is in eternal life, is unlikely practically. And when you exactly make control to ensure eternal life, then you, in any case, based on the goal of control bring all the best in all aspects of reality.

The next question is just a part of the sub question. How to avoid adding new? Means problems.

The thing is that ensuring eternal life is a technology. In this technology, it is necessary to master certain methods, ways, and principles. This should be done in the normal conditions of life, i.e. not organizing specifically any as if model situations instead of just solving current tasks.

So, if this part of the question is about some new directions, this is not a problem, and the answer to this question is finished. But I can consider that, adding my part into the question, that some areas of knowledge look problem, but they should be addressed the same way as you address any other positive tasks. Therefore, in technologies of eternal life, they may look problem, but in fact, they are not. You have just to determine yourself to resolve the issues, to find solutions and to learn how to solve them in a timely manner.

One of the questions, another one that I already met. It is about how to develop controlling clairvoyance.

That is, if you think you need to add clarity to the picture of the world or in some details the physical events, future events, then you can develop controlling clairvoyance based on the material presented in the first part of the webinar. Generally speaking, it is possible to develop controlled and controlling clairvoyance to the desired level through any material of the Teachings, where the methods and techniques, and technologies of control are available. You should just determine exactly the development of controlled or controlling clairvoyance as the goal of control.

The term “controlled clairvoyance” is more urgent in the spirit of today webinar, because it was about controlling all the events of eternal life. Well, that is to say, logically you can understand that it was about the control of clairvoyance as well. In practice, it looks like the directing clairvoyance into a certain position of cognition.

For example, for the development of clairvoyance for the cognition of the fundamental structure of the world you can highlight, in the text of the Webinar, which was in the first part, the words that correspond to the area containing all the events of the world and concentrate on that area, which corresponds to the events outside the person. In this case, you should understand that this separation is based on your view, because the events somehow are related to the man himself.

Then concentrate sharply your attention on yourself, on your physical body and then on all the events in this big sphrer. As an example, I illustrated the sphere of snow, a big sphere. And watching this sphere you will comprehend the fundamental structure of the world, and at the same time you will be able to develop clairvoyance to the following cognition of these structures.

For development of controlling clairvoyance to your private personal processes, you should highlight a small sphere in the events, which is located on the big sphere, and concentrate on it. Then you will see your private events that you want to transform, for example, or leave them as they are in an endless spectrum of the future events.

During the webinar, I used this method of viewing through controlling clairvoyance and controlling forecasting of these aspects of reality.

The translator, there is a question “on” or “in” the large sphere?

“On”, you should concentrate “on” not inside and the gaze should be like on an external object, as if you look at the ball, without penetration into its internal position. And if you try to penetrate with the Consciousness inside, too much details occur, which can for some time delay the control of exactly the required events.

And in the part, exactly in the relevant part of the webinar in this case, the term “controlled clairvoyance” refers to the fact that you just chose the particular control for the small sphere. In connection with the developing practice of the Teachings, some terms and conceptual structures appear in the process of work. In fact, they do not differ from the generally accepted terms; however, there might be different technologies of control under these terms.

Controlling clairvoyance is when you at the moment of clairvoyance action make pre-control, i.e. it does not admit negative unnecessary events and at the same time try to see and fix in the events exactly the desired event. And controlled clairvoyance makes it possible to choose the structure of development of controlling clairvoyance, as I said, either in terms of cognition of the fundamental laws of the world, or the choice of the structure to determine the private positions.

I would recommend, when you have time and even when you have very little time, to understand always the fundamental meaning of the occurring processes from the point of view of the structure of the entire world and the impact of this structure upon the current situation, which you control. Then you will have more control over the situation as a whole, you will avoid unexpected situations, and then you will implement the personal control on the development of specific applied clairvoyance in a more relaxed atmosphere.

The principles of my Teachings say, “We have to carry out an action on the rescue of all and ensuring eternal life to all, and then do a private action”.

The next question is this: “The New Testament says the following, “it is sown a natural (soul) body, it is raised a spiritual body”. There is the soul body and the spiritual one. Why are they opposed? Why is the Soul priority selected first, then the Spirit? What is the difference on the physical plane? Is the process of transfer gradual or one-time? Is this process taking place currently? How based on myself or another person to determine the degree of development of the process?”

In response to this question, I would say that, in my opinion, there is no contraposition here. Based on the material of the first part of the webinar, I talked about the fact that the physical body can be attributed to the static wave of reality. The physical body is also a part of the Soul. And any external information in relation to the physical body is not opposed to the physical body.

This quotation exactly confirms that there is a fixation of the Soul, and then the action of the Spirit takes place. If to match with my webinar, “spiritual body stand up”, it is exactly the action of the Spirit. I have told about it in the beginning of the webinar.

Actually all canonical religions have the knowledge to achieve eternal life. Well due to the fact that the texts have a certain amount of fixed content, you can find exactly the technological part the fixed texts. Not only religious knowledge, but also scientific knowledge, the knowledge of development also contain some form of technologies of eternal life, and often they can be quite easily found.

A person, who is engaged in realization of eternal life and has a developed practice, can select in the information of various kinds of activity, various sources of information, that part that ensures eternal life.

In fact, this quote shows one of the technologies, well which in some transcription is explained to a certain extent in the first part of the webinar. Since the question was asked after the first part of the webinar, it shows that it is possible to find a certain confirmation and realization of the development technologies that ensure eternal life in various information.

Further is the sub-structure of the question: “What is the difference on the physical plane?”

The fact of the matter is that for the physical plane the only difference is that due to thinking there is a different level of concentration of control. Considering that the thought is reproduced only in correlation with the physical human body, it is possible to say that this is just a selection of the mode of thinking for control.

“Is the process of transfer gradual or one-time?”, is the next sub-question.

In this case, I believe the question is not about some transitions, but simply on the expansion of knowledge, about development. Man lives eternally not because he carries out some for transition actions, but because he knows how to live forever and how to ensure eternal life to everyone. Therefore, the most appropriate way to consider any sources of information is from the point of view of obtaining such knowledge.

Thus man should, remaining man, without any additional mutations, as I have said, without any cybernetic stimulants, in his natural pristine state, live forever and, moreover, ensure eternal life to all other living beings in that form, in which these creatures are.

Further, on the definition of the degree of development of this process, I mean some kind of transition, I have responded to you.

Now I would like to extend this question with my part of information. For anyone who develops the technologies of eternal life in yourself and others, exactly this process of control of this development is also available for you and others. In the initial level of the process, in the area of stomach of man near the skin, white glow is visible. Actually even the impulses of this glow are enough to ensure eternal life of a concrete person. There are periodic impulses of silver color, which even slip in some cells, only just in the local cells.

I am talking now about the system of external diagnostics, and not about producing this action: but not on how to perform this action. Therefore, you have to be able to differentiate the diagnostic action, also controlling, from the action for the realization of this spectrum. Actually, of course, when you look, you also apply a controlling action to achieve this process of diagnostics, but mostly we are talking now about the fact that this action is as a result of your previous controls to achieve eternal life.

I diagnosed some people in the information, which now, through the technology of the Teachings in general have glow all over the body, all over the skin; this means they have firmly mastered the technologies of eternal life. As in the usual practice of the cognition, when you in the information see such people even with initial levels of manifestation of eternity, it is useful to try to understand how they learned it, and, generally speaking, how it is advisable to transfer the knowledge of eternal life. Then you will get more knowledge in this area.

Therefore, my technologies are structured in the first place to enable the person who received knowledge to transfer it. Therefore, in the Teachings, great attention is paid to the training of the teachers on the Teachings, and the task for the teachers is to obtain fundamental knowledge on the Teachings and control in the area of eternal life. Largely every person should become a teacher of technologies of eternal life. In this case, he will more specifically explain himself the details and the essence of the technologies, since during teaching some questions might arise from concrete people, who practice in different conditions.

And the task of ensuring eternal life is a universal control of all situations. It is unlikely that one person will visit many places at once. Therefore, the most optimal system in this case, which brings real results to ensure eternal life, is to receive and resolve issues from others. This solves exactly the task of completeness of the entire educational process in terms of the goal that is ensuring eternal life, real ensuring.

The following question, “If we currently take care of our nourishment, to sustain life, then will it change as if for the permanent care of eternal life? Approximately so?” The next part of the question, “Such worries? Won’t eternal life be automatically specified, i.e., as a natural state?”

Based on this question I can feel that the question was asked in a state of fatigue, that is, apparently, some feeling of relaxation is needed, so it sounds like this. Actually, a part of the answer to this question is in the question itself. Exactly in that part which says, “Approximately so?” Until the Collective Consciousness comprises information of eternal life for all, it will be necessary to support with additional efforts of some or all people in some cases the state of eternal life real events.

When all the issues relating to eternal life, including the issues of universal resurrection as a sub-structure of eternal life, the issues of providing all with technologies of eternal life, the issues for realization of eternal life for the conceived and as a consequence newly born people, when they will get this knowledge due to the developed of public, i.e. Collective Consciousness, then this condition will become natural, not requiring any special actions.

However, it will be necessary to gain knowledge continuously, because after ensuring eternal life to all and when all will have mastered these technologies, the next tasks, which will be based on the fact that eternal life is achieved, will be set; these tasks will more refer to transformation of the external world in direction of securing eternal life and in direction of receipt of a special kind of knowledge.

Therefore, it is better to tune into the ongoing process of receiving knowledge an infinite time. And to do this, it is still necessary to find time for rest and for work in the form of receiving knowledge. Because it is not that you need to continuously keep in Consciousness some control systems; there are ways of education when you lay the right knowledge into the future. So, in those future events where you laid the information you may relax as you want.

The main thing is to lay for the next future event, to ensure that the process is ongoing. Technologically, you simply by the method of control go to the information of the future and build there you construction of the required control. Then the system of receiving knowledge does not look tense and can develop infinite time harmoniously enough.

The next part of the question: “Ten years ago there was a discussion about technical devices that could help people to raise the level of Consciousness, to heal themselves and never die. Are these devices available now? Unfortunately, people lack natural abilities to work on the technologies of work with high productivity. Some people explain their quitting the Teachings by the lack of effectiveness”.

Firstly, based on this part of the question, I can say that now these devices that are “technical devices”, at one time were only, in general, at the level of the initial development, now these technologies are more developed technically. Now it is just the task to get the appropriate certificates for the instrument technologies. It is important to note that the technologies are built on the combination of spiritual development and combination of existing instrument material base.

In order to implement the training system of the development of the Spirit, Consciousness and the Soul of man, quite naturally, it is necessary to implement a large number of precisely targeted devices and instrument technologies. And through, e.g. the legal entity, “Grigori Grabovoi DOO”, these technologies will also be implemented, of device type; those who work based on the licenses and can build technologies based on licensed knowledge can implement them as well.

And in relation to that people lack “natural abilities”, actually it is not so. Everyone possesses the full range of abilities sufficient to ensure eternal life. And the task is just to master them by, for example, those methods, techniques, systems of knowledge, which I give in my Teachings. You can also use any other technologies that may be close to it, to the level of implementation.

And from the point of view of this sentence, that “some explain quitting the Teachings by the lack of real results”, I can say the following: the Teachings is built as a scientific concept that has practical results. The Teaching includes a theoretical part that scientifically proves the fact of possibility of achieving eternal life, there is a practical part, based on my results and my students’.

The scientific part is implemented by means of the orthodox science. The apparatus of this science, for example, mathematical or physical, physical-mathematical apparatus cannot be refuted, since it was proved by all the previous practice of human development and on the basis of the specific technologies that work in everyday life, in the development of technology-based industries and in the implementation of these high-tech industries.

The personal actions based on the results of the Teachings are included in the three volumes of “The Practice of Control. The Way of Salvation”; these are my results, which prove that there is a possibility to control, and such, which can ensure eternal life due to the structure of development of your Consciousness, thinking. There are the results of the students in volumes four, five, six “The Practice of Control. The Way of Salvation” which increase constantly, which prove that it is possible to learn to use my technologies and implement them in practice. Thus, the full knowledge cycle in this case is implemented.

In terms of scientific technologies, there are patented methods, systems that allow talking about the industrial applicability of the technologies, i.e. you can implement them in all spheres of life. Therefore, such a thing as lack of results is most likely because the purpose of the Teachings is not fully explained. That is, the position that the Teachings is a continuous system of education perhaps is not determined initially.

If the result is not achieved for a while, you can study more, receive knowledge and achieve results. The Teachings makes it possible to control different structures of information, including information of the past. In developed control technology, you can go out to the point of lack of the result and re-control the event. In this regard, I consider that you should carry out more explanatory work on the objective part of the Teachings.

The next question: “What are the conditions for the establishment of branches of your University in other countries?”

The fact of the matter is that I consider that it is necessary to create the branches of the University. Just to show the effectiveness of the Teachings in terms of system education is always much easier and you can do it more precisely, than when the attitude to the Teachings is like to the system of some wonderful single technologies. Just the ascertainment of the fact that the Teaching is a scientific direction, can lead to more rapid universal education on the Teachings.

Naturally, attention should be also paid to the spiritual education, spiritual religious development. The University can develop both. It is therefore possible to obtain documentation from the University of Grigori Grabovoi that is being created and now start organizing the affiliates in other countries, in addition to Serbia, because now the principal University is organized directly in Serbia based on “Grigori Grabovoi DOO”, the enterprise.

At the moment the statement on the organization of the University will be certified in the court in Serbia. This is a routine procedure that applies to all educational institutions under the law of Serbia. Then all the details of the University will be recorded in various departments, and the process of accreditation of the University within the state systems of Serbia will start.

The certification process is typical. The same is the process of accreditation, it is typical for all educational establishments, and it is to provide information on available facilities, teachers working at the faculty academic posts and, accordingly, the training program should be available. All these positions are now being systematically implemented for three faculties, as the three faculties is a minimum level in order to found a University.

In case of sufficient investments, it will be possible to do this at once for all faculties of the University. This information will be posted on the site of grigori-grabovoi.world in the subdirectory that corresponds to the University of Grigori Grabovoi, to its creation. And depending on the number of faculties, depending on what departments you want to develop locally in your countries, it will be possible to create affiliates in any country.

I think this will raise the prestige of the education on the Teachings of Grigori Grabovoi, will provide an opportunity to train specialists, which have mastered the Teachings, in all the fields of activities, and thus the task of ensuring eternal life in all spheres of human activities will be intensively addressed. Naturally, the University is not the only possibility of intensive introduction of teaching eternal life. Any other systems of training will be organized and expanded.

The next question, “What is the role of the human Soul, namely in this technology, if it only exists as part of the structure of human personality? or is it possible to define its role as an independent structure either?”

Since there are more questions, that I believe require answers, the second part of the webinar will be somewhat longer. So, about the technology, which has now been implemented in part 1 of the webinar, it was about the physical body and about the Spirit of man. It was meant, that in this technology, the action of the Soul is conditioned proceeding from the overall context of the webinar. Certain technologies inform about the major systems of control in the applied structures to avoid expanding and detailing any other structures.

Well, for example, a picture can be painted in specific colors without using some colors, and at the same time other colors, which were not used, to a certain extent can be seen in the picture. Many of my lectures, seminars also distinguish some of the systems of personality, while others are implicitly involved and, of course, are realized in the control.

The next question, “Please, give an impulse to development of controlling clairvoyance and to development of controlled clairvoyance”.

Firstly, I will give a number series for the development of the controlled clairvoyance. And the impulse is the number series, if it is considered that this is an impulse. It will be set as follows: it is practically the same imagination system, combined with the real level of information that was fixed in the form of the big snow ball and in the form of the small ball on the big ball.

For the development of impulse, i.e., quick development, of controlling clairvoyance, which will enable you to quickly resolve many issues and in a short necessary period of time to ensure eternal life to resolve all issues, the number series is as follows: you should imagine, on the small ball, the numbers of bright silver color, the following numbers: 481597. Then the number series continues as a streak to the big ball, but the number will be of blue color: and the numbers are as follows: 6184. Try to answer the question, why there is a difference the colors.

Now controlled clairvoyance, the impulse to obtain controlled clairvoyance, this is rather a technology to receive quick controlled clairvoyance, expressed in a number series. Imagine that numbers begin as if to fly from the center of the big ball. And watch carefully the figure, which is as if jammed in the small ball. The nominal value of the figure, well, for example, from zero to nine, as we are talking about a number, enables you to determine the number of events in that event which you need in the control and at the same time to resolve them.

Typically, a person understands when the events related to him are major, and how many of the selected key facts are in this event. This is as if the identification number is allocated, the address of a specific event. And generally speaking, even the correct selection of the desired event in the control is already a substantial part of the control. Therefore, this method just develops the speed of getting the required information and it can be used exactly for the development of such an impulse urgent clairvoyance.

We can say that this second part of the webinar is finished. And, everyone, thanks a lot for the attention. The materials will be sent to all the participants of the Webinar.
